

Resolution of the 2021 Award for Best Interdisciplinary Thesis

On 5 November 2021 the call for the 2021 Award for Best Interdisciplinary Thesis was published on the Doctoral School website, inviting submission of applications between 5 and 15 November 2021.

The award is outlined in action plan 04. UOC R&I 0402. Transdisciplinarity of the UOC's Strategic Plan 2017-2020, which aims to foster interdisciplinary collaborations. Thus, to bolster this line of work, the UOC Doctoral School is giving out a special award for the best interdisciplinary thesis for the 2020/2021 academic year.

The selection committee, meeting on 29 November 2021, has resolved the call for the 2021 Award for Best Interdisciplinary Thesis and has selected the following candidate:

JUAN PEDRO CERRO MARTÍNEZ

The award comes with a gross monetary prize of €500.

And, in this respect, I hereby sign this document.

Barcelona, 1 December 2021

David Masip Rodó

Director of the Doctoral School of the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya